CANSEC 2025

May 28th & 29th, 2025

At Rainhouse Manufacturing Canada Ltd., we know that building a more innovative, secure, and self-reliant Canada starts with strong partnerships. That's why we were proud to attend CANSEC 2025, the country's largest defence and security trade show. This year, President and CEO Ray Brougham and Vice President Chris Lichty represented Rainhouse at the two-day event in Ottawa.

Held annually by the Canadian Association of Defence and Security Industries (CADSI), CANSEC draws over 12,000 participants from Canada and abroad. CANSEC provides an unmatched opportunity to engage with national and international decision-makers, explore the latest leading-edge technologies and solutions for land, sea, air, and joint military operations, and offers an unparalleled platform for networking, partnerships, and insight into Canada's evolving defence landscape.

At the event, the Rainhouse team focused on deepening existing relationships and forging new ones across the Canadian defence and aerospace industries. Through direct engagement with military procurement teams, government representatives, and supply chain leaders, we continue to position Rainhouse as a reliable and responsive Canadian supplier.

"CANSEC provides an invaluable opportunity to connect with industry leaders, discover cutting-edge innovations, and showcase Canadian capabilities on a global stage."
