

Rainhouse Engineering Showcase

This spring, we hosted the Rainhouse Engineering Design Showcase in collaboration with the University of Victoria. The event brought together student teams, industry professionals, and community members to share ideas and celebrate engineering in action. With another Showcase planned for April 2026, we're excited to keep the momentum going..

Representing at CANSEC

Again in May, we also returned to Ottawa to exhibit at CANSEC 2025. The event gave us a chance to connect with Canada's defence and security sectors, highlight our full-service manufacturing capabilities, and reinforce Rainhouse's role in this critical industry

The Return of the FUN Committee

Also this summer, we brought back the Rainhouse FUN Committee. From monthly birthday celebrations to casual team events, these small efforts made a big difference in how we connect, support each other, and show up every day.

“This event really gives students a chance to shine. It’s exciting to see industry and education come together to support the next generation of STEM.”
